YOU'VE GOT EVERYTHING PERFECT.
Now keep it that way.

Your home, vehicle, boat and airplane are significant lifestyle investments. Keeping their fabrics, carpeting and other fibers safe from stains, sun fade, and even excessive wear isn't something you want to worry about. That's why protecting them with MicroSeal is a smart decision. It's the industry-leading protectant that actually seals and protects from the inside out.

ENGINEERED TO PROTECT.
Designed to be safe.

MicroSeal was created in England over thirty years ago as a proprietary formula intended to permanently replenish the naturally-protective properties that a sheep produces for its own coat. Unlike the typical protectant that only coats the fiber and then breaks up easily, it penetrates the fiber to its inner core and protects from the inside out. In addition to wear and stain protection, MicroSeal provides substantial sun fade resistance and the environmentally-friendly formula is completely biodegradable and is medically rated non-toxic and non-allergenic.

IT'S AN INVESTMENT worth comparing.

When considering MicroSeal vs. other fabric and fiber protectants, find out if they offer these advantages:

- Penetrates fibers & survives for years of protection.
- Independent laboratory verification that it reduces sunfading by nearly 100% on most fabrics.
- Won't shrink or stain fabrics and fibers.
- Increases wear resistance.
- Reduces smoke density and flame spread if fabric or fiber catches on fire.
- Mildew and static resistant.
- Attaches only to fibers and will not seal in stains.
- Does not damage woodwork, metal, paint or glass.
- Safe for the environment.
- Can be used on any material with fibrous nature including suedes and smooth-finished leathers.
- Is non-allergenic and non-toxic.
